PARISH MISSION

Marguerite d'Youville's belief in the guidance and loving involvement of God in her life has enabled her to become God's helping hands in the lives of others. In this same spirit, the parishioners of St. Marguerite d'Youville, nourished by the Word and Sacrament are called by God to foster a community of welcome and service. In union with Christ, we reach out through prayer and active participation within our parish, our schools, our community and beyond. We offer our gifts and talents to everyone in need and respond in faith to the challenges of our ever-changing world.

At the same time, practical reason makes evident that vaccination is not, as a rule, a moral obligation and that, therefore, it must be voluntary. In any case, from the ethical point of view, the morality of vaccination depends not only on the duty to protect one's health, but also on the duty to pursue the common good. In the absence of other means to stop and even prevent the epidemic, the common good may recommend vaccination, especially to protect the weakest and most exposed. Those who, however, for reasons of conscience, refuse vaccination produced with cell lines from aborted fetuses, must do their utmost to avoid, by other prophylactic means and appropriate behaviour, becoming vehicles for the transmission of the infectious agent. In particular, they must avoid any risk to the health of those who cannot be vaccinated for medical reasons or other reasons, and who are most vulnerable.

- article 5, Congregation for the Doctrine of Faith, Note on the morality of using some anti-Covid 19 vaccines, December 2020

Conscience is an action of reason in light of objective standards; a well-formed conscience then must adhere and obey responsibly to those insights. As Catholics, we benefit from revealed truth to assist us in discerning what is most beneficial to help sanctify our struggle in this world so as to remain faithful to the promises of the world to come.

The immense pressure being placed upon all citizens the world over and the silencing of judicious dissenting opinion ought to alarm us all. The cited excerpt is intended to help add clarity to an already exhausted and heated conversation of which no one is exempt. All the recorded evidence of alternate treatments, the discrepancy between the actual threat of mortality vs high rate of recovery, the role the body's natural immunity, the ineffectiveness of mask wearing, the efficacy of the vaccine...all seem to be censored in favour of a moral duty to comply and conform. The CDF's document calls for the voicing of opposition to ethically irreproachable vaccines – even if their urgent use can be justified on account of their remote participation with an original evil. I wonder what it would be like to oppose the pharmaceutical industry and governments who endorse the use of cell lines from aborted fetuses, without being labeled a domestic terrorist and risk being forcibly shut-down. Given that those who are vaccinated still seem to be vehicles of transmission comparable to the non-vaccinated, it is hard to maintain the argument that receiving the vaccine is an act of charity and responsibility towards my neighbour. Given the mounting and un-addressed contradictions, no wonder so much speculation and mistrust has been ignited.

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

WHO IS THE GREATEST?

The gospel reading this weekend sounds as if it is taken straight off the front page of the newspapers. Who is the greatest singer, the greatest golfer, the greatest basketball player? Who is the G.O.A.T. –greatest of all time?

It's a very modern mentality. We all want to know who is the best. In the time of Jesus there was a similar outlook. The religious authorities felt that they were the greatest in the kingdom of God. So it was only natural that Jesus' disciples subscribed to that notion.

Peter felt that he was the best as he had been given the keys to the church and James and John because they were privileged to witness the transfiguration thought they were privileged. No doubt there must have been some class distinctions as well based on profession and family background. They had a worldly perspective on greatness.

But Jesus took them aside and pointed to a little child, indicating that they must put aside their worldly attitude and become childlike in outlook, adopting a perspective of trust, simplicity and innocence. They must replace their arrogance and competitiveness with a willingness to serve in a humble way.

This is a perspective our present pope has encouraged in the modern church. Asking us to leave our privileged status behind and serve each other humbly. This is the key to evangelization. It encourages people to join us as they feel welcomed and appreciated.

Let us pray for such a church here at St. Marguerite.

Fr. Roger

The second section of Cardinal Thomas Collins' Pastoral Letter on Stewardship is focused on The Spirituality of Deep Stewardship. This section explores the concept that deep stewardship is not fundraising. To read the full pastoral letter, download resources, and learn more about deep stewardship, please visit www.archtoronto.org/stewardship.
