PARISH MISSION

Marguerite d'Youville's belief in the guidance and loving involvement of God in her life has enabled her to become God's helping hands in the lives of others. In this same spirit, the parishioners of St. Marguerite d'Youville, nourished by the Word and Sacrament are called by God to foster a community of welcome and service. In union with Christ, we reach out through prayer and active participation within our parish, our schools, our community and beyond. We offer our gifts and talents to everyone in need and respond in faith to the challenges of our ever-changing world.

Thus Satan whose primary objective is to steer mankind away from heaven and from Christ has made his primary focus of attack to distort the most prominent image of the Trinitarian relationship to which we are all called and to distort the image of Christ's own relationship with His Church. That's why you put up with the hardships to carry on this work.

John-Henry Westen,
upon the 25th anniversary of founding LifeSiteNews

John-Henry is Toronto born, the son of a devout Dutch father and East-Indian mother; his conviction to the Catholic faith grew slowly and defiantly as he pursued child psychology studies at both U of T and York University. Deeply personal and pivotal choices to trust Jesus Christ and His Church, in his early 20's, led him to begin work for "Campaign Life Coalition." With the growth of internet blogging in the late 90's, John-Henry's research and writing skills were quickly finding an eager market for stories that were simply ignored in main stream media outlets. Together with Steve Jalsevac, they co-founded LifeSiteNews as a fresh new web page resource to stand as a bold defense for the sanctity of life and marriage. The popular outreach has grown to be the largest prolife online presence with a growing list of enemies from the surrounding culture and a set of detractors within the Church. He, his wife and 8 children, live in the Ottawa valley. His uncompromising commitment to the cause of life and his prophetic expounding on the culture's most important issues grants him John the Baptist-like status on this Third Sunday of Advent. The cited quote reflects well his understanding of the spiritual battle and nature of attack of which we find ourselves in. A visit to lifesitenews.com will provide you with ample information to help you stay informed on such key topics.

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Advent is not by its very nature a penitential season. Canonically the season of Lent and the Fridays of the year are the proper place for penitential practices. As someone wrote:

"The penitential observances of Advent always had a festive character to them. The idea was to contain your excitement before Christmas and to use that energy in preparing for Christ's coming. So people took on these penances joyfully—something that only a Christian could do."

But there is more to it than that. As John Wesley wrote back in 1739 the reason for the season is that "God and sinners (may) reconcile." It is the reason why Jesus came. Then surely if we are truly to be reconciled to our God we should be mindful of sin in our lives and our need for God's grace made manifest in Jesus.

So I encourage us to make a good confession before the end of the year. Do a bit of soul searching when you have the time. Look at your relationship with God, people and yourself. Do you trust God in all your affairs? Do you put God first? Do you manipulate and dominate people? Have you been tolerant with another's shortcomings? Are you faithful to your calling as mother, father, friend, leader?

Lets make this Christmas truly jolly and bright by clearing up some of the dark areas of our lives.

Fr. Roger
